

Intern with Changing The Present in New York City to Gain Experience and Make a Difference!

Join Us

- Help us capture for nonprofits some of the $450 billion Americans spend each year buying presents.
- Become a member of our dynamic and creative international team.
- Assume real responsibility. No coffee runs here! Be a leader among those who share your commitment to making the world a better place, and do work that matters.
- We have internships available in: finance, social media, graphics, research, fundraising, sponsorships, Public Relations (PR), Human Resources (HR), and marketing. You can also focus on your own favorite charitable cause.

About Changing The Present

Changing The Present is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. We help channel to nonprofits some of the $450 billion Americans spend each year on birthday, holiday, and other gifts. Named as an “amazon.com of the nonprofit world” by The New York Times, we make the experience of giving a donation in a friend’s name feel like a gift. That involves tangible giving opportunities, personalized greeting cards, wish lists and registries.

Where/When

- We are conveniently located at 7th Avenue and 33 Street, across from Penn Station in Manhattan.
- Any time of year, and for as long as you wish.

Unpaid

We provide a great opportunity to gain experience and make a meaningful change in the world, but this is an unpaid position.

Learn More and Apply Now

- Read more about our internships for international students at:
<http://www.changingthepresent-join.org/international.html>
- Please send a resume and short cover letter to:
 - join@ChangingThePresent.org