Dr Hadas Kotek

Dr. Hadas Kotek received her PhD in linguistics from MIT in 2014. After spending several years teaching at Yale and NYU, she left academia for a career in industry. She is currently a data scientist on the Siri Natural Language Team at Apple. Dr Kotek additionally holds a Research Affiliate affiliation with MIT and is teaching a course on 'demystifying LLMs' in the linguistics department this fall. She has taught several long-form workshops on careers in language technology at MIT, Harvard, and the LSA Summer Institute, with a focus on careers in tech in North America. The content of these workshops is also documented in her personal blog.
