

Student Assistant Wanted for Proof-Reading at the Chair of Information Security and Compliance

Your task:

- Research for and proof-reading of lecture slides and research papers

Expected Qualities:

- Native speaker (lived at least 5 years in a country with English as an official language)
- Reliability and good communication skills
- 'Hands-on' mentality
- Preferably student of economics

What we offer:

- Interesting insights in the research fields of information security and security behavior
- The possibility to work on current scientific projects as well as scientific research papers and publications

The position will start in April 2023. The working hours are limited to 15-25 hours per month. The payment follows the usual hourly rates for student assistants. You should at least be available for two semesters.

Your application should include a short cover letter, your CV, an overview of your grades, and, if applicable, employment certificates of past employment.

Please direct your application to florian.schuetz@uni-goettingen.de.

We look forward to receiving your application!